

CONRAD JANTJES DOES IT AGAIN!

During the final week of the 2009 school year, we received the news that Springbok and Stormers rugby icon Conrad Jantjes, would like to invite sixty children out for lunch on 17 December 2009! Amidst the end of year rush, class registers were scanned by staff for the hard working, well deserving children. The same numbers of kids were chosen from each farm which leaves the message for other children that they'll need to work harder and be better behaved in order to be selected for the next special outing.

The bus stopped off at each farm en route to the Cape Gate Mall to collect the excited children. Some of the kids have built a friendship with Conrad from both their excursion to Newlands in 2008 and his visit to their farm school in September last year, while other eager kids were full of life at the thought of meeting their rugby hero for the first time.

Conrad arrived with fellow rugby player, Egon Seconds. The Spur booths were moved together to create a large seating area for the Anna Foundation and while Conrad took turns chatting and joking with each group of children, glasses of coke were served. To keep the kids occupied waitrons handed out special holiday activity books and crayons, while clowns with bright orange hair did the rounds, producing a variety of twisted balloon animals for the fascinated kids. Between chin-wagging with Conrad, everyone tucked into burgers and chips, followed by ice-cream with chocolate sauce. To top off the marvelous afternoon, each farm had a group photo taken with the man himself.

Thank you Mr Jantjes, for your kind heart and for spoiling the Anna Foundation children with such a special lunch. What a down to earth guy!
